

Xiaorong Wang
Professional Goals

1. I have realized that my future professional passion lies in teacher training during this STARTALK program. I have worked in UVa-in-Shanghai program as a lead teacher and associate director. This experience has equipped me with the capability of training and guiding novice teachers. As a participant in the STARTALK program, I have gained more insights of program design and training techniques. I look forward to any chances being a teacher trainer in the future.
2. I will complete my doctoral program with dissertation interest focusing on the comparison between hybrid course and face-to-face course. I hope I can learn more theories and past research about hybrid learning.
3. In addition, I plan to integrate more technologies in my teaching. This integration will definitely affect the curriculum design and teaching techniques. But I believe it is the trend that learning mode will be more technology-based and accessible for the new E-generation students. I hope I can develop more effective teaching and learning mode in the future.